Bridgeton, New Jersey

As monumental bronze unchanged his looks;
A soul that pity touched, but never shook;
Trained from his tree-rocked cradle to his bier
The fierce extremes of good and ill to brook
Impassive—fearing but the shame of fear—
A stoic of the woods—a man without a tear.

THOMAS CAMPBELL

The trail of life was choked with trees
That grew between us and desire
But as we worked, the path grew clear
It spread before, our souls were fired.

Our Inheritance

We have a noble heritage. We, who are busied with the numerous tasks involved in living, learning, growing, and building, have inherited "red blood and challenge" from those who blazed the trail on which our fathers walked in their steady march toward progress.

Then, as now, only the strong could hope to stem the tide of obstacles that swept the path and threatened dissolution. Unaided by medical knowledge, the Redman offset the ravages of disease with herbs; when herbs would do no good, he could but offer a prayer to the deaf ear of his Deity. The most acute danger, however, was the invasion of the white man. Assailed by weapons, strange to him, weapons that shot fire, made loud reports, and felled a man at a greater distance than an arrow could be shot, besieged by cunning, betrayed in his offer of friendship, the Redman was forced to grant privileges, step back farther into his woods, and bestow the fruits of his civilization on greedy white men. But red blood filled the veins of the Redman; the challenge was not to be ignored. He fought for his rights.

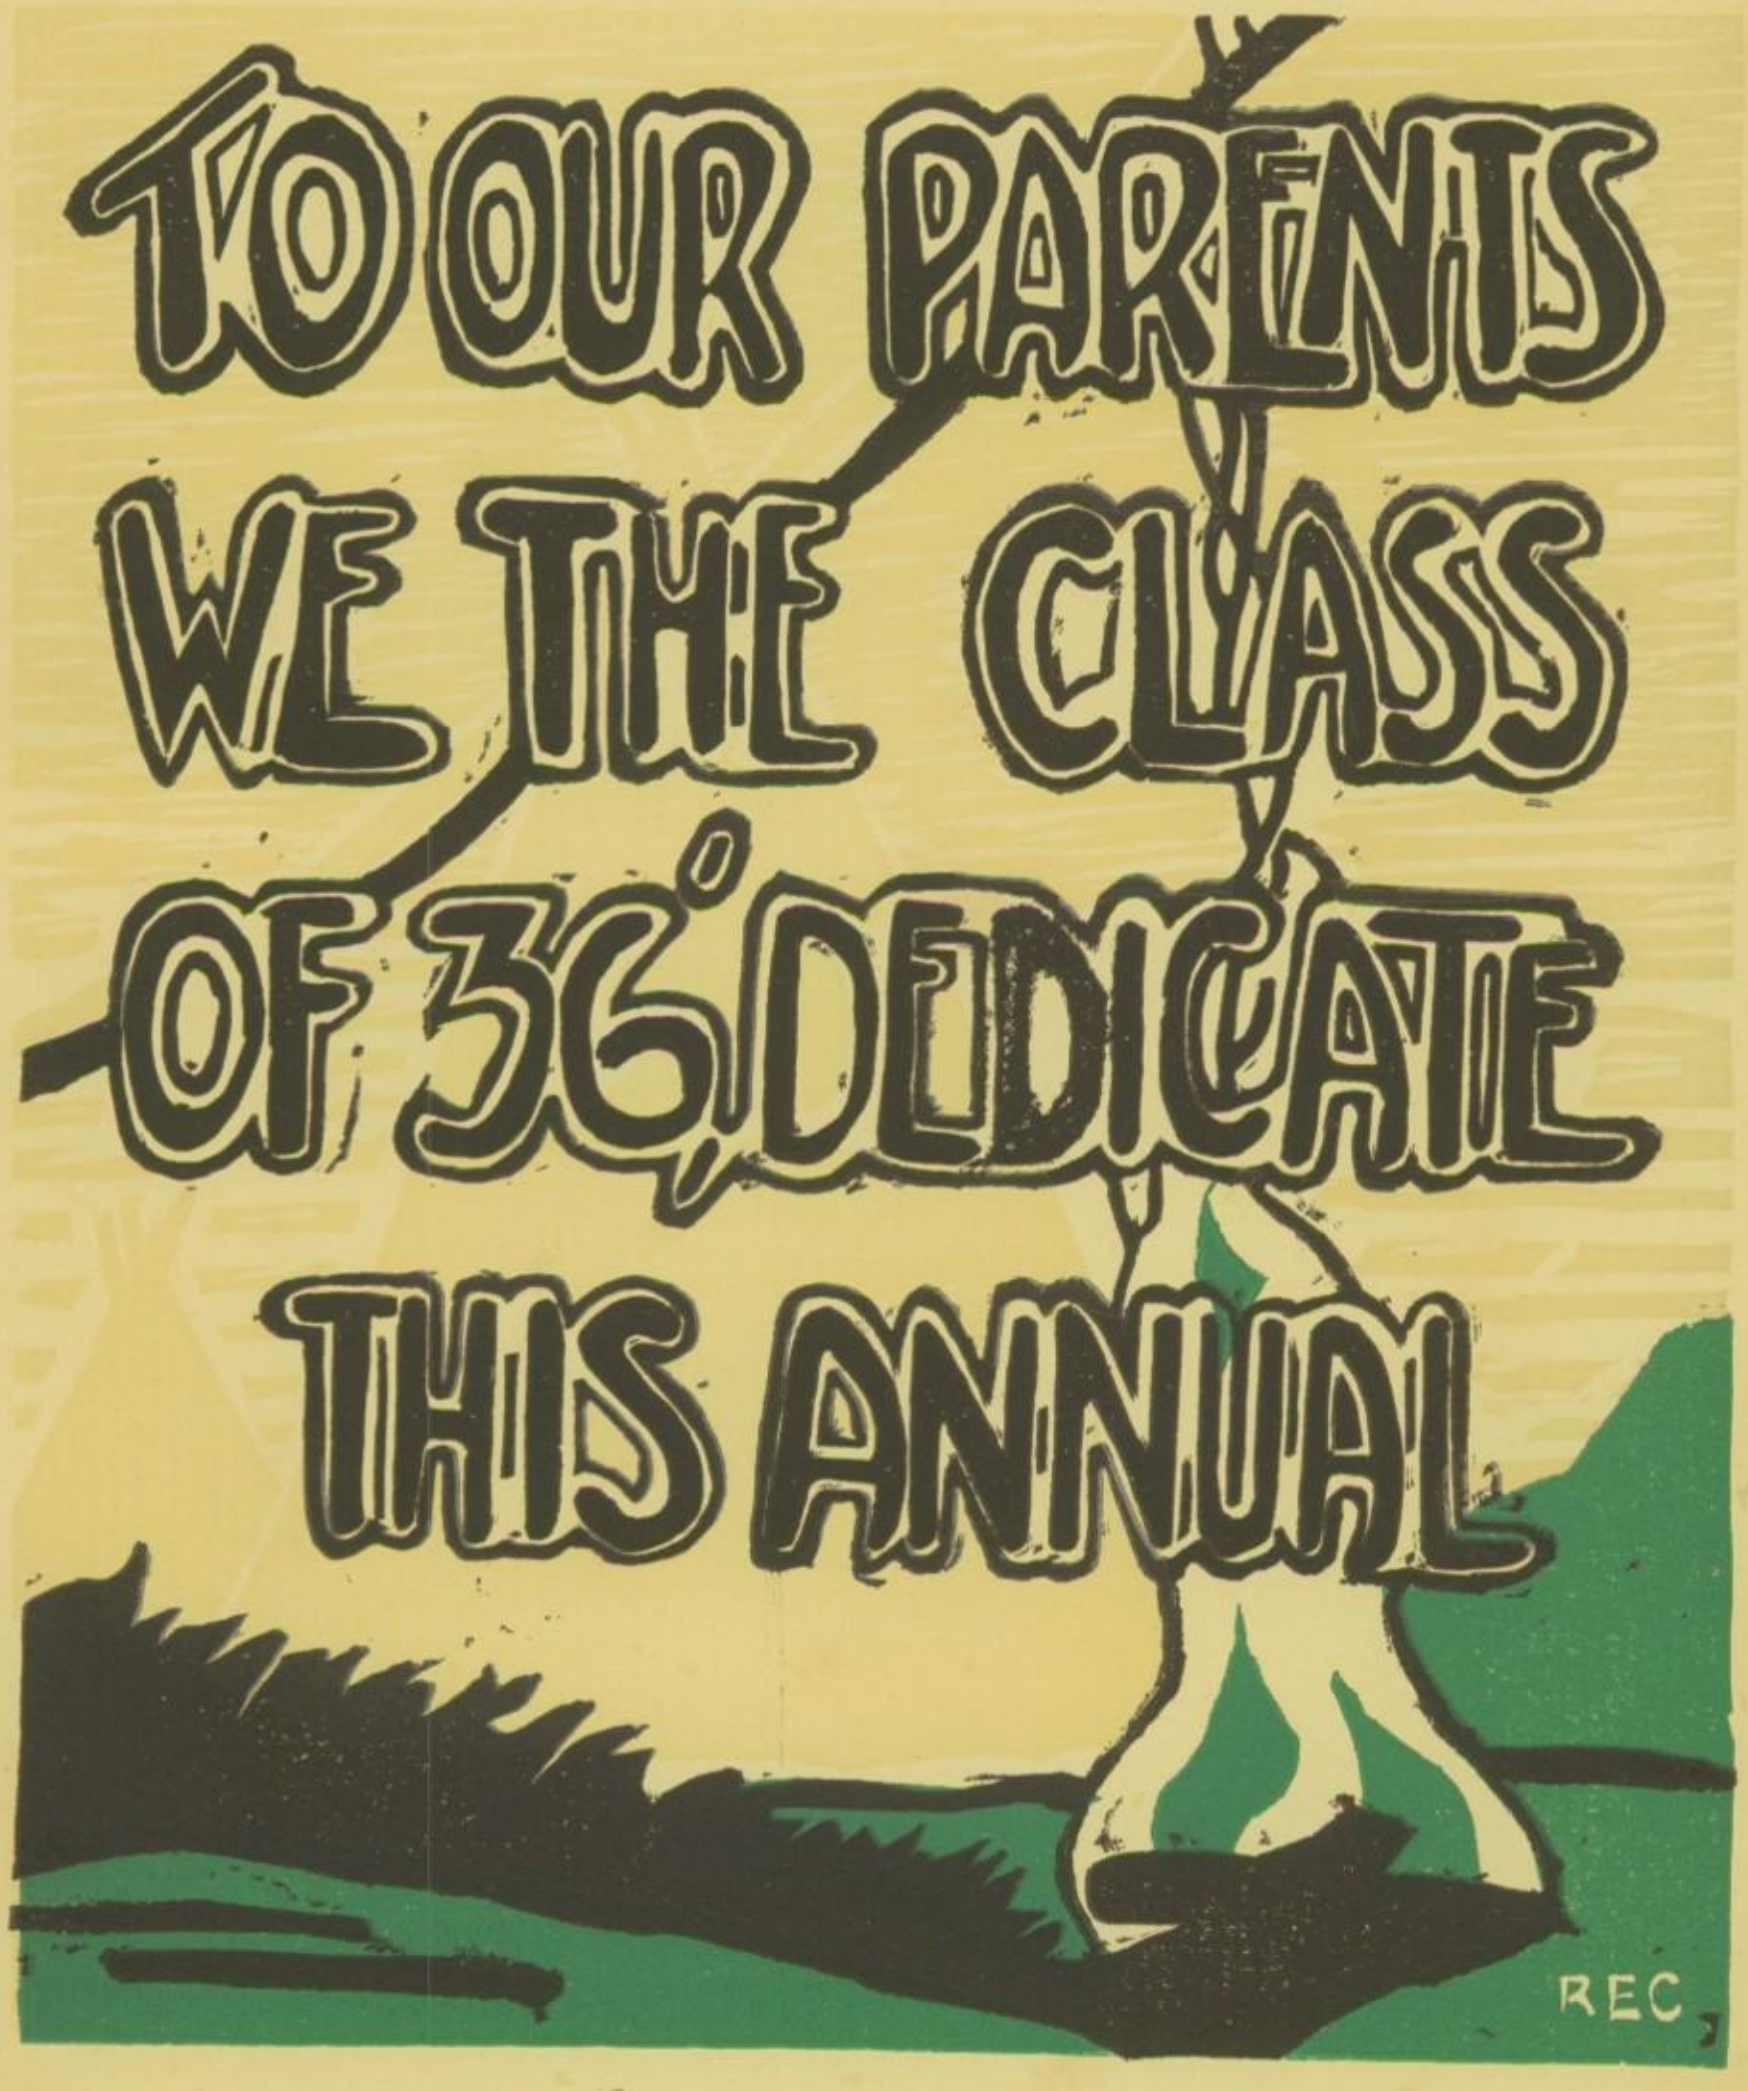
We have learned from our history books that finally the Redman was driven beyond the Mississippi. He was cajoled into signing slips of paper, deeding away his land until he was planted on a reservation.

The credit for inventions, scientific data, and musical renown goes not to the Indian, for he has ever been disturbed, never allowed to settle peacefully and develop his civilization, his music, and his art.

The Indian has bestowed upon us his red blood and challenge; red blood with which to fight our battles, challenge with which to overcome ignorance, solve our problems, discover truth, and establish justice.

We shall guard well our inheritance. We shall "climb though the rocks be rugged".

TO OUR PARENTS WE THE CLASS OF 36 DEDICATE THIS ANNUAL



MRS. ALMA HUSTED

We, the class of 1936, wish to express our sincere appreciation and high regard for our adviser, Mrs. Alma Husted, whose understanding guidance and active interest have ever been present in our class activities.

Alma Mater

In the southern end of Jersey
There's a quaint old-fashioned town,
With its classic halls of learning
That have won it great renown.

Chorus:

Alma Mater, Alma Mater
The school we love the best;
May thy colors ever lead us
And proudly wave from shore to shore
Then to thee a cheer we'll render,
Bridgeton High, forevermore;
Then to thee a cheer we'll render,
Bridgeton High, forevermore.

On the field and in the classroom,
True thy sons will ever be,
That thy fame may stand unblemished
Through the years of history.

To thy name there will be glory,
When our task for thee is done
For Maroon and White has led us
In the contests that we've won.

Tribal Ceremonies

September 4, 1935 The Opening of School

Bridgeton High School opened its doors to give the seniors one more chance to show what they could do.

November 16, 1935 The Bridgeton-Millville Football Game

This last year has been a "red letter year" for marriages, airplane crashes, and all sorts of events, including football games. Bridgeton High's football team played the spectacular and beat Millville. Mr. Robbins was right about the law of averages. Where—at Bridgeton. How—by exercising its skill and intelligence. The score—18 to 7. The result—a general celebration by the whole town. Even the grocery store proprietors ran out on the pavement and left their customers waiting for their bread, sausages, or beans, in order to watch the hilarious students in long chains winding through town.

November 18—December 5, 1935 Art Appreciation Week

The art department set aside seventeen days to educate us in an appreciation of the works of old masters. This was one instance in which we did not demur at the proffered lesson, for we got out of an English period and enjoyed looking at the colored reproductions of famous paintings which were exhibited in the library. A program in which the grade school and the high school pupils took part was presented in the auditorium. The admission was ten cents but this didn't keep people away, and a sufficient sum was realized to make possible the purchase of many pictures similar to the ones on exhibit.

January 2, 1936 Hockey-Football Banquet

The P. T. A. gave a party for the hockey and football squads. This was one occasion when we all wished we had been blessed with athletic prowess. Everyone reported a delicious dinner and a "good time." The music was furnished by the Village Band. The party started at 6.30 p. m. and ended at 11.30. A great many from the student body attended the dance.

April 27, 1936 The Fashion Show

Another fashion show was held in which the Domestic Science girls displayed the colorful products of their capable fingers.

April 30, 1936 The Junior-Senior Reception

It was the seniors' turn to take it easy and observe the gala entertainment prepared especially for them.

The music was inspiring, the dancing grand, and the gowns as beautiful as ever. This was another "good time" in high school to be remembered.

May 22, 1936 The Senior Party

The seniors did their own feting this time and reaped an abundant harvest from their labor. It was a grand climax to four years of work, play, and a lot of things that make up school life.

THE INDIAN

Pausing now before his wigwam,
Ere departing with the tribesmen
For the distant snow-capped mountains,
Rich in bounty for the hunter,
He recalls his happy childhood,
Carefree youth, a vivid memory.
Once upon the hunt he's started
He must make his way alone;
Still he will not shun the struggle,
Long and steep, the path he'll follow
'Till his quarry lies before him
And he knows his quest is done.

RECOLLECTION

The smoke from his pipe curled into the air,
For it was quiet everywhere,
And his thoughts like smoke were drifting too,
Rising slowly into the blue.
But the blue was fading and the lake was dim;
Solitude, but his thoughts with him
Were awakening things he once had known,
When he had not been so alone.
It must have been the night that held him so,
For even the breeze and his thoughts seemed slow,
Drifting back to a similar lake,
Whose shaven surface soothed the ache
Of decent sweat behind the plow,
Whose shaven surface shields the vows
Of his and someone else he knew.
His cheeks were covered with night dew.

The smoke from his pipe curls into the air,
For it is quiet everywhere,
And his thoughts like smoke are drifting too,
Rising slowly into the blue.

As the Indians lived and made history, so each class that enters Bridgeton High School makes its own history and leaves it recorded on the pages of time.

In September, 1932, a new tribe was added to the council. After a few days of acquainting itself with its new territory, the members chose the chiefs who would represent them in all matters of importance. They were James Garrison, Ruth Carll, Betty Fogg, and James Unger. Much of the first year was spent in making discoveries.

When the tribe met for the second year, they elected the following chiefs: James Garrison, Esther Peterson, Ruth Carll, and Stanford Elwell. Each year found the group coming into more prominence and receiving more authority.

At the third council, the tribe of '36 chose as their leaders: Edward Grein, Esther Peterson, Peggy McCormick, and Stanford Elwell.

Wherever one sees the red and black banner, he will find the tribe of '36. And now their years together are nearly completed. Each one must look toward his future.

At this point, we pause and push aside the mist which reveals long forgotten events enshrouded with triumph, thrills, success, and happiness. We remember and smile. Then we return to the warmth of the last campfire and watch the flame—the boundless, leaping, searching, eager flame, blazing skyward in rapturous glory. We watch it burn and marvel. The flame subsides—becomes more settled in its course. We take this for a sign. We, too, shall rise to glorious heights and settle peacefully. The flame goes out and the bright coals remain, smiling, merry, happy, coals. We rise, breathe in the glory of our last campfire, and issue a wordless pledge to those merry coals—each one a secret pledge. We will keep it.

Classical, '33, '34; Scientific, '35, '36; Track, '34, '35, '36; Football Manager, '36; Latin Club, '34.
Undaunted by the reproofs of teachers, he smiles back modestly.

"Excellence is not a mantle put around our shoulders by destiny. It is something attained by thought and act."

Activities

Art Service Staff

The Art Service Staff is a group of students who are particularly interested in doing practical art. Their aim is to be of service to the school and at the same time gain some knowledge of commercial art work.

There are no rules or regulations. A student is a member as long as he proves useful. The motto is "Service to the school."

Very rarely is there an activity which is not indebted to the staff. Among its contributions are posters, charts, and illustrations for various class activities, stage scenery for the annual plays, exhibits, and many other things too numerous to mention.

The adviser is Mrs. Marjory Rensch.

The following is a list of the most active members up to the time when the picture was taken:

B. H. S. Band

Is it new, or just different? . . . It all depends on your point of view. For several years there has been a band—or a sort of one. If and when a director could be persuaded to come around, it rehearsed and played. Then it would lag and fall apart until someone else would be called in to lead. Rehearsals were few, spasmodic, and mostly after school, forcing the absence of bus-transported members. Charge of the band was taken at times by teachers already overburdened with heavy schedules, at times by men imported into the school only a few hours a week.

School authorities realized that no permanent organization could be built on such haphazard foundations. New plans were laid; and new results were forth-coming. Now time has been given so the band may rehearse adequately during school time—two periods a day, two days a week.

Last fall saw twenty-eight members enrolled, and although several were forced to drop out, the total membership had reached thirty-four by March.

Regular rehearsing has begun to bear fruit in better playing. Football games, assembly programs, and special functions have given the band an opportunity to display a growing and improving repertoire.

The appearance of the band has been enhanced by the P. T. A.'s generosity in furnishing sweaters. Hopes are held that to the sweaters will be added capes, caps, and trousers.

Since this is the first year the band has really had time to organize, the members and the general student body are looking forward to a continued growth in the number of members, in instrumentation, and in the quality of the band's performance. It will certainly try to fulfil these expectations.

Bridgeton High Echo

In September, 1935, a class of nineteen, interested in the study of journalism and the publishing of a high school newspaper, met for the first time.

Instructed by Mrs. Leona Meyers, the class studied the phases of journalism, planned a paper, and launched a subscription campaign.

A contest was held for the selection of the name. Alice Blackman, a junior, was awarded a prize for submitting the most appropriate, which was the "Bridgeton High Echo".

The first issue appeared in December. Twelve copies were written and published at bi-weekly periods.

The work done in the class during the year by these nineteen people is largely to be commended. It was a whole-hearted effort to produce a school paper which would, in every way, foster the best in school spirit and, at the same time, make an appeal to the student readers.

In February the class was organized into the following staff:

Editor-in-chief_____Marjorie Gates

Assistant Editors—
Alice Blackman
Jeannette Maxwell

Dramatic Club

A Dramatic Club seems to be an essential organization of any high school.

Our club is proud to announce that it now belongs to the New Jersey Forensic League of Secondary Schools which entitles the members, by paying a small fee, to enter many contests.

The activities this year consisted of an amateur show, presentation of a play, and representation in the public speaking contest held at Palmyra.

French Clubs

The members of Le Cercle Francais and Le Cercle Cadet have profited much by their monthly meetings. Miss Masland, the adviser, talked interestingly about the French people, their customs, and history.

Many delightful programs were planned, of which the annual Mardi Gras was the most outstanding.

Under the able supervision of Miss Masland, the clubs have always proved a success.

Latin Club

The purpose of the Latin Club is to give the members of the classical department a deeper appreciation of the Latin language through literary programs dealing with the history, customs, and social life, of the Roman people. Each class is responsible for one program which centers around some important Roman character or social custom. This year the club particularly stressed the bi-millenium of Horace.

Student Council

The Student Council is probably one of the most important organizations of Bridgeton High School. At the weekly meetings this year, plans were discussed for the improvement and welfare of the school. Committees, such as the lost and found, greeting, public reception, and hall and campus, were appointed. A committee was also appointed to devise a club constitution in which are the regulations concerning its activities.

The Student Council party held at the end of the year is always regarded as a very enjoyable occasion.

Bulldogs Have Successful Season

Display Power to Score

Led by that famous "center," Barney Fisher, the "bulldogs" won six games, tied one, and lost three, during the season of '35.

In the opening game with Salem, Bridgeton showed just what it could do. With Harvey Johnson at the fullback position, the locals mowed down a determined Salem team by a score of 13-0, scoring both touchdowns in the last half. With the wonderful cooperation of the line, Johnson was able to get loose for a sixty-yard run.

The next game, which was with Haddonfield, B. H. S. lost, after leading 7-0 in the first half. Our only score made in this game was by Waddington, who recovered a fumble over the goal line. Bridgeton outplayed its opponents, but lost by the score of 13-7.

Bridgeton smacked Glassboro 19-0, with Grein, Zimmerman, and Wuzzardo penetrating the final stripe for touchdowns. The bulldogs played a fine game displaying quite a bit of aerial work.

The next week, the contest with Paulsboro ended in a tie 13-13.

Colls Lucky on Gridiron

In our annual battle with Collingswood, everyone agreed that although B. H. S. lost, it was a moral victory. It was a beautiful afternoon and every "bulldog" starred. Bisbing, of Collingswood, tallied both touchdowns for the visitors in the second quarter, and after that, it was all B. H. S. Bridgeton High came back in the second half and at the end of the game had fourteen first-downs to three for Collingswood. The catch that Grein made in this game will never be forgotten by those who saw it.

Bulldogs Win Three in a Row

The fighting Garnets came into the height of their season, winning from Hammonton, with a score of 6-0. Then they beat Pleasantville and Millville, 14-0 and 18-0, respectively. In the latter game, "Chic" Zimmerman will never be forgotten for his eighty-yard run resulting in a touchdown. Following this game, a large snake dance was held for the overwhelming victory of the fighting eleven.

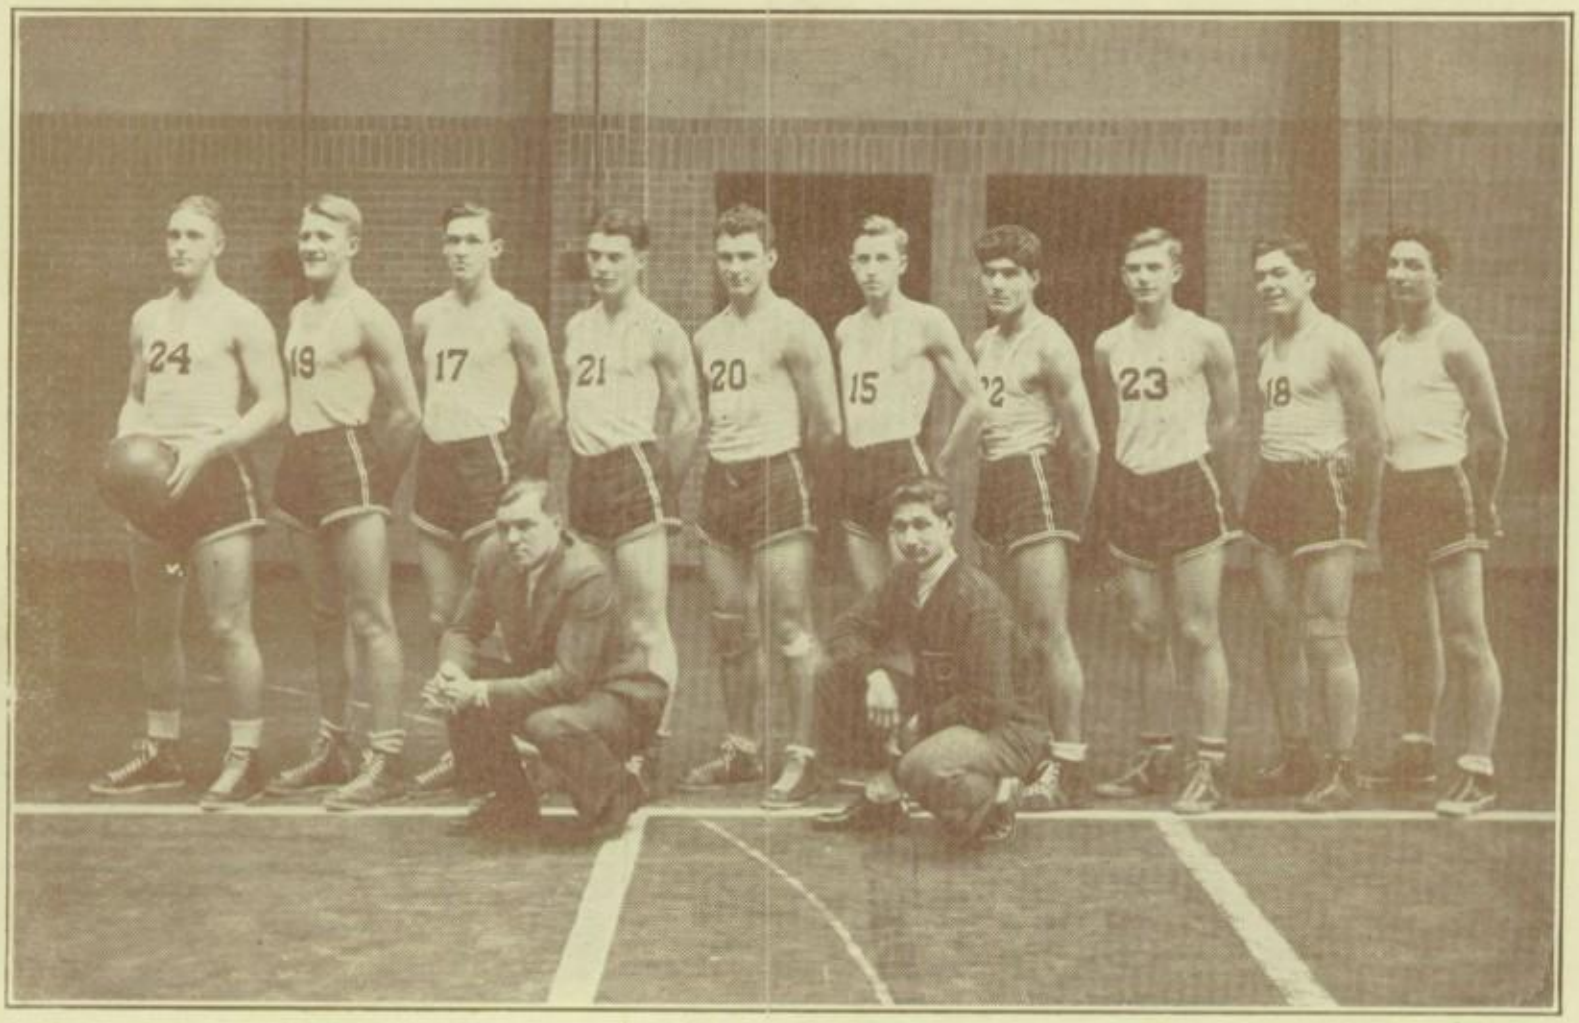
Two Hard Fought Games

In the county series game, Vineland scored one touchdown and was the only team to hold the "Bulldogs" scoreless.

B. H. S. finished its successful season at the expense of Audubon. This was the first time we were able to beat them. By the strategy of Coach Guest, the two ends, Grein and Carll, stopped the visitors' strong end runs. We won the last game 14-6.

Lose Many Stars

All in all, the B. H. S. team outplayed every team on its schedule, except Vineland. With such linesmen as Fisher, Grein, Matyger, Wuzzardo, Carll, Erianne, Unger, Uhland, Bright, Kamenski, Dennis, Waddington, Leake, MacPherson, Cliff, and Kienzle to support such backfield men as Johnson, Barber, Giammona, Zimmerman, Mattalucci, Sungenis, Mathis, Lasenko, and Kinkle, there was only one team on the schedule who could hold B. H. S. scoreless. As a whole, everyone played good clean football. Mathis, who was out with a bad knee, saw action in the last two games. Fisher, along with Johnson, made the team selected from all schools of group four in South Jersey. Fisher also made the All-South Jersey first team and Johnson, the second team. Grein made second team, group four, and received honorable mention on the South Jersey team. Carll and Waddington also received honorable mention.



BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Basketball

The "bulldogs" had a very good season, despite the fact that they lost seven games in the Camden Suburban League. Four of the seven were lost by an extra period or by a very few points.

The first contest with Audubon, the league champion, required an extra period of play, and the second contest, two extra periods, so even was the playing.

The "bulldogs" failed, by only one goal, to tie the score in the Collingswood and Vineland games. In the Collingswood, Audubon, and Millville games, they displayed fine form. They came through in contests with Haddon Heights, Vineland, and Haddonfield and carried off the victory with a large score.

The Alumni and Middletown, who were not members of the Camden Suburban League, bowed before Bridgeton; and Glassboro scored one victory and one defeat.

Bridgeton was rated fourth place in the league with a five-hundred point average; Audubon, first; Millville, second; and Collingswood, third.

The unusual happened in the county series; it ended in a triple tie. Bridgeton, Millville, and Vineland each succeeded in scoring victories at home but lost the games on their opponents' floors.

Congratulations go to Mr. Maloney and his Junior Varsity team, which tied for first place. The members of the second team were: Hummel, Gubbine, Spoltore, Weber, Bacon, Erianne, Lavine, Karol and Carll.

There were many seniors on the team who will be greatly missed. They are: Whilden Carll, Waddington, Grein, Johnson, Veale and Kinkle. Those returning are: Karol, Giammona, Wuzzardo, Gentile and Uhland.

TRACK TEAM

History of Boys' Tennis at B. H. S.

In B. H. S., tennis was tried for the first time as a major sport in 1932. That year, the initial team was so successful in competing with other schools, that it was able, in spite of a difficult schedule, to finish its season undefeated. Henceforth, tennis was to be a permanent boys' sport in our high school.

In 1933, we entered the South Jersey Interscholastic Tennis League and won nine matches out of ten, finishing in second place. In recognition of these successful performances, the athletic association decided that boys might, from then on, earn varsity letters for tennis, as in other sports.

A boys' tennis team in 1934 again earned a second place in league competition.

In 1935, the team broke even, winning, with all inexperienced players, about half of its matches.

Fortified with three regulars from last year, and a host of capable newcomers, the 1936 squad is anticipating a very successful season. B. H. S. has entered the South Jersey Inter-scholastic Tennis League this year. Letter men from last year are: Lester Steinberg, Elmer Goldman, and Leon April. Rated, in order of last year's standing, the six players who will probably comprise this year's team are: Lester Steinberg, Elmer Goldman, Leon April, Richard Rogers, Sidney Lewis, and Bernard Brachman.

No matter how successful B. H. S. tennis teams may be, they will always deeply feel the loss of a team-mate, Paul Cottrell, who died, while at college, in 1935. Paul will always be remembered for his skill as a tennis player, his good sportsmanship, and cheerfulness.

The development of boys' tennis at B. H. S. can largely be traced to the willing assistance, and fine cooperation of Coach Ad Behling.

The schedule for this year:

April 27—	Collingswood	—home
April 29—	Glassboro	—away
May 1—	Haddonfield	—home
May 4—	Camden	—away
May 6—	Moorestown	—away
May 8—	Pitman	—home
May 11—	Trenton	—away
May 13—	Woodrow Wilson (Camden)	—away
May 18—	Audubon	—home

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAM

Hockey Lore

September 24th—0-0

The game with Haddon Heights is to be remembered as one of the most exciting games of the season. It was played on a very warm day, which fact made it difficult. Neither team scored a goal.

October 2d—2-1

A boiler factory is quiet to what the girls' gym was after the Moorestown game. B. H. S. won 2-1. This was the first victory of the season.

October 9th—1-3

The girls on the team will never forget this game. They all knew, without being told, that they did not play very well. Haddonfield completely outplayed Bridgeton. We are glad days like this are not a regular occurrence.

October 16th—6-2

The B. H. S. girls gave Gloucester a trouncing with a 6-2 score. This victory gave them revenge for the loss they suffered from Gloucester last year. This was the highest score the team has ever made.

October 28th—2-2

In this game Bridgeton held the undefeated Merchantville team to a 2-2 score. B. H. S. was ahead in the first half, but Merchantville rallied in the last few minutes to end the game 2-2.

November 4th—0-0

The athletic field was the scene of a mighty battle when the girls played Collingswood. Both teams were so evenly matched that neither made a goal. The score was 0-0.

November 6th—0-0

After the Audubon game, Mr. Robbins dubbed the team the "Scoreless Wonders". This was perfectly logical after the girls had tied two teams in one week. The score of this game was also 0-0.

November 13th—1-3

The Woodbury game was one grand display of beautiful hockey. The girls on the team never played better. At the end of the first half, the score was 1-1, but Woodbury's strong forward line got the better of Bridgeton and made the two goals that won the game. This game will be remembered because of the bitter cold weather during which the trip was made.

November 20th—2-0

Never will the Paulsboro game be forgotten. The visitors tried desperately to make a goal when they were awarded penalty corners, but Bridgeton's defense refused to let the ball go into the cage. Bridgeton won 2-0.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Girls' Basketball

December 17th—25-21

Bridgeton won the opening game of the season by defeating Swedesboro 25-21, in a practice at the latter's school. This game was a sort of test to see how the teams would make out with the new type of game played this year.

January 3d—31-18

The girls were too strong for their Alumni foes and defeated them 31-18. There was an unusually large number of graduates who returned to play. We were glad to see such a turn-out.

January 8th—11-35

The team opened the South Jersey League by entertaining the strong Haddon Heights team. They were defeated 35-11. The Haddon Heights team played beautiful basketball.

January 15th—21-15

The varsity won the first game of the season when it traveled to Haddonfield on January 15. Bridgeton's team played well but had some difficulty in keeping the Haddons down to fifteen points.

January 21st—15-30

Bridgeton bowed to Woodbury High on the home floor in a tightly contested game. The score was 15-30. Up until the last quarter the score was very close, but Bridgeton let up and Woodbury gained a fifteen-point lead.

January 28th—16-23

The team traveled to Vineland only to receive another league setback. They were defeated by a 16-23 score. At the end of the first half, Bridgeton was in the lead but failed to retain it in the second period.

February 5th—10-20

The girls met Collingswood on the local court and were given another defeat. The score of this contest was 10-20.

February 11th—18-31

The basketball team journeyed to Haddon Heights for the first game of the return series. Haddon Heights was the victor with thirty-one points to Bridgeton's eighteen. This game was the best that Bridgeton's team ever played.

February 19th—22-33

Woodbury set the varsity back on its heels in a one-sided game played on the home floor. The score was 22-33.

February 26th—13-28

Vineland came to Bridgeton on February 26 and handed the girls a 28-13 defeat. It seemed that the team played well in the first half but could not keep it up for the finish.

March 4th—16-26

The girls' varsity received the last defeat of the season when they went to Collingswood on Wednesday, March 4. The score of this game was 16-26. Collingswood completely out-scored Bridgeton.

March 6th—20-10

Again Bridgeton gave the Haddonfield lassies a trouncing in a thrice postponed game held on the home court. The guards played especially well, keeping the Haddons' forwards down to only five points in each half.

GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM

Tennis

The girls' tennis team this year is composed practically of all new players. Mary Robbins, Barbara Wilson, and Cornella Scull are the only ones left from last year. As the players are newcomers to the ranks, the team will have to work very hard in order to uphold the reputation that the school has gained in the tennis world.

Tournaments with other schools started for the first time in 1932. The first year the team tied two games and lost two. In 1933, the girls won five matches and lost one. In the year 1934, Bridgeton won every game of the season, and last vear she won five and lost three.

This gives Bridgeton a higher rating than any of the schools with whom she usually holds matches. These schools are: Woodbury, Collingswood, Salem, Moorestown, Ocean City, and sometimes Taylor Business College and Glassboro High.

The eleven girls who will probably compose the team this year, listed according to their ratings are: Mary Robbins, Barbara Wilson, Cornella Scull, Bessie Fisher, Eva Strang, Isabel Durkee, Eva Wilson, Betty Wilson, Mary Bonham, Esther Peterson, Pauline Bowen.

The captain of this year's team is Mary Robbins, number one player. The manager of the outfit is Stella Hitchner.

Class Song

Follow the Trail

The trail winds upward and we see
The hopes made possible by thee;
The visions with each passing year
Become much closer, shining clear.
We need you Alma Mater yet
You were a guide we can't forget.
And when our onward march is through,
Our souls will still be here with you.

Chorus:

Then weep, oh class, if you would weep,
And open up each aching heart;
The day is new, the journey set.
The time has come when we depart.
But as we are, we ere shall be,
The same close friends in memory,
Hail Thirty-Six!

Words by James Timmons
Music by Elizabeth Stanger

"I dipt into the future far as human eye could see,
Saw the vision of the world and all the wonder that would be."

Tennyson

Eva—"Where did you get that horrible necktie?"

Waddington—"The joke's on you, you gave it to me last Christmas and this is the first time I've had nerve enough to wear it."

Bill had a billboard. Bill also had a board bill. The board bill bored Bill so that Bill sold the billboard to pay his board bill. So after Bill sold his billboard to pay his board bill, his board bill no longer bored Bill as it did before Bill sold his billboard.

"My secret of health is to eat lots of onions."

"But how can you keep it a secret?"

"Travel broadens one."

"It might broaden some, but it flattened me."

"Her personality is very magnetic."

"It ought to be. Everything she has on is charged."

"You're broke, and still you want her to marry you. Aren't you afraid her dad'll kick you out?"

"No, I'm going before the footlights."

"You have been losing flesh lately, haven't you?"

"Yes, I've been shaving myself."

Mr. Rensch—"Can any of you tell me what makes the Tower of Pisa lean?"

Elsie—"I don't know or I'd take some myself."

Miss Hoffman—"Whilden, is that all the work that you can do in one period?"

Whilden—"Well, I suppose I could do more, but I never was one for showing off."

When a girl wears a bathing suit, she never goes near the water; when she wears a riding habit, she probably doesn't know how to sit on a horse; but, believe me, when a girl buys a wedding dress—she means business!

Mid—"Would you marry for money?"

Les—"Not until I had exhausted every other means of getting it."

Harvey—"I see that in Philadelphia they have just operated on a boy's head to make a better boy of him."

Eddie—"Well, that isn't where my "Pappy" used to operate on me to make a better boy of me."

Senior Girl—"Well, nobody can say I ever chased after the boys."

Another Senior—"No, a trap doesn't chase after a mouse but it catches it just the same."

"I discovered the missing link last night."

"Where?"

"It rolled under the dresser."

"You say you can't swim. Then how come you weren't drowned?"

"I had on a pair of duck pants."

"If Mars ever did send us a message, how would they know we received it?"

"They might send it 'collect' and see if we paid for it."

"I thought you were her suitor?"

"I was, but I didn't."

"Didn't what?"

"Suit her."

"Can you tell me what relation a doorstep is to a doormat?"

"What is the relation of a doorstep to a doormat—a step farther."

The American Indian

Monarch of all thou didst survey,
  Living by conquest in thy day;
Sustaining self from stream and sod,
  Believing in an unknown God;
Yet thou wasn't happy in thy place,
  A soul free born—of unknown race.

The copper hue, from whence it came
  We know not. But I'm sure the same
God that did make the red and blue,
  Did give thee thy distinctive hue
By taking from the rainbow's veil,
  Thy color which would hide thy trail.

Thy long, straight hair, black as the night
  So black it dulls the owl's keen sight
Dilated nose and sleepy eyes,
  That never showed care or surprise
Marked well thy countenance of stone,
  From which all fear seemed to have flown.

Thy home was built as need demands,
  But mostly near the hunting lands
So that thou would'st not have to go
  Far from thy home, when winds did blow;
'Tis here thou shows the human trait,
  Of laziness—for work, men hate.

Thy name came to thee just by chance;
  It was the eastern world's advance
By men, who seeking India's shore,
  Did land where white man ne'er before
Had stopped; thinking that they had found
  A way to prove the world was round.

They called you Indians—savage men,
  Uncivilized—hard to befriend;
Gave little thought that t'was your home,
  Those wooded streams which you did'st
    roam;
Defending home against the throng,
  You fought, thinking to right the wrong.

Then wars ensued in years to come,
  The sound of rifle and tum-tum
Did each foretell of slipping life,
  Of wholesale slaughter, wicked strife;
Until the whites had gained your ground,
  And you had understanding found.

Defeated! Yes; but honor bright
  Shone in your eyes; no trace of fright
Was shown in all your warriors gay,
  When fighting in that dim past day.
It seemed to be the will of God,
  That you should share your rich green sod.

With this I'm sure men will agree,
  No matter what your destiny
You've left your mark upon our race,
  Which only time mayhap efface
And cunning, courage, did impart,
  Into a fighting, white man's heart.

Appreciation

We, the class of '36, wish to thank those persons who, in any way, have made possible the production of our year book.

To Mrs. Leona Meyers, adviser of the year book, we wish to express our sincere appreciation for her unselfish cooperation, cheerful counsel, and enthusiastic leadership. We feel greatly indebted to Mrs. Meyers, and words cannot express the high regard which we have for her.

Mrs. Alma B. Husted, our class adviser, deserves to be commended upon the efficient way in which she handled the business end of our year book. Mrs. Husted has conducted all of our class activities in just such a manner.

We wish to thank Mrs. Rensch for her expert assistance and interested advice which greatly aided the creation of the art work.

We wish to express our appreciation to Mr. Smalley for his splendid cooperative spirit.

To Miss Beckett and Miss Penfield, we extend our thanks. Their cheerfully given assistance in the office was invaluable to the members of the staff.

We greatly appreciate the very helpful talks given by Mr. Lott and Mr. Hitchner during the circulation campaign.

The club and activity advisers, and other faculty members have always been ready and willing to help when they were able.

Those seniors who so faithfully worked as subscription representatives are to be especially commended.

The class wishes to express its gratitude to all those who helped in the completion of this annual.

May the class of '36 remember this small but important path as we leaf the pages of our annual in the years to come.

This Bank

—stands at the heart of the business life of this community

EVERY industrial and commercial activity, every public or private financial transaction occurring in this community creates impulses that pass in one form or another through a bank.

They give rise to deposits of money, cashing of checks, bills of exchange to finance trade, distribution of payrolls, payment of bills, remittances o ffunds, accumulation of savings, borrowing of money. These are indispensable activities by which people carry forward their financial affairs.

Banks everywhere facilitate and weave into a properly related whole thousands of these separate transactions occurring daily throughout the country. Modern economic society and progress would be impossible without these banking functions.

In a sense that is true of no other form of enterprise, each bank belongs to—and is an essential part of—the whole business life of its community.
